What is Google Shopping?

Google Shopping Ads are a new type of ad, introduced in 2017. They hold the highest possible ad position in Google Search, especially on mobile devices (due to their vertical structure).

Google Shopping Ads are now globally mainstream. They've become much easier to set up with deep analytics. If you're running an online store without Google Shopping Ads, you're online competition is already ahead of you.

Am I eligible for Google Shopping Ads?

- ✓ You must have an online store where people can purchase products.
- ✓ Make sure you show full contact information on your website (both phone number and physical address). A contact form only is not enough.
- ✓ Make sure that your site lists all available payment methods accepted prior to a user starting the checkout process (e.g. "We accept VISA, Mastercard etc).
- ✓ Make sure to include a Return & Refund Policy which clearly states how you handle returns and refunds. This should include all requirements and any timelines. If returns and refunds are not accepted, you'll need to clearly state this on your site.

Why Use Google Shopping?

All product-based businesses with E-Commerce websites need to take advantage of Google Shopping. A significant portion of businesses experience better returns with Google Shopping than with any other E-Commerce advertising. However, much like Google AdWords advertising, Google Shopping campaigns uses a complex platform which requires an expert to properly set up and manage. If done right, Google Shopping can be a gold mine. If you are already using Google Ads, we highly recommend running Google Shopping in parallel.

Where do Google Shopping Ads appear?

Google Shopping ads currently have the highest positions (above normal Google Search ads and website results). They are even more dominant on mobile devices due to their vertical structure.

Key Benefits

- ✓ Highest ad position, with 200%-300% higher click through rate than normal text ads
- ✓ Integrates easily with Shopify
- ✓ Links customers to other products on your site that might suit their needs better

“ We've worked with Tony and the team for several years on a couple of different businesses, highly recommended and that's why we keep coming back. We just know everything will be taken care of...”
